

The author's/co-authors' declaration

Hereby, I DECLARE in accordance with the Conditions for publication in the ČSPZL journal:

- the article has not been and will not be sent in whole or in part to another journal or medium for publication,
- the article has been approved for publication by all co-authors,
- I/we bear full responsibility for professional content and its originality,
- neither I nor the co-authors are in conflict of interest with the studied and published issues,
- I acknowledge that by sending the manuscript, the author grants the publisher a license to use his work by reproducing, distributing, and communicating to the public,
- the ethical principles for medical research have been observed, and if the study has been approved by the Ethics Committee, this is stated in the publication, together with the consent of the subjects.
- I/we have the written consent of the patient to the publication of his/her photographs (if some photographs in which it is possible to identify the patient are used for professional reasons).
